About the Neighborhood Association Committee Program

Beaverton’s eleven NACs encourage neighbors to get to know one another and act as a forum for discussions about information important to the neighborhoods and community such as land use, traffic and development issues. The committees also sponsor projects and activities that can help to build community and promote neighborhood identity including: picnics, tree plantings, and events in local parks. Participation in a committee is open to anyone who lives, works, owns a business or represents an institution or non-profit organization within the boundaries of the NAC. Membership is not contingent on home ownership and committees do not charge membership fees or dues.
